ALMOST A BIG FIRE.

Gasoline Ignited in a Market street Con-fectionery Yesterday.

Yesterday morning Peter Mongo, an Italian who keeps a confectionery on Market street, just below Sixteenth, went to light the gasoline heater of his peanut roaster. He did not notice that a quantity of the gasoline had leaked a quantity of the gasoline had leaked out and run over a box on which the machine sat, and down upon the floor. When he struck the match the place was at once full of flames, and fire shot out the door in a way to cause a good deal of excitement. The flames were put out with little damage, but Mongo was slightly burned. It was strange the whole structure of light wood, filled with inflammable stuff, was not burned. Saturday forenoon at ten o'clock, a defective flue in Mrs. Kreiter's house, at 138 Seventeenth street, caused a still alarm, to which the Atlantic responded. The blaze was put out without damage. out damage.

GOOD SALE OF PROPERTY.

Two Wealthy Gentlemen Show Their Con fidence in Wheeling.

On Saturday the block at the northeast corner of Fourteenth and Market streets, fronting sixty-six feet on Market and running back 140 feet on Fourteenth, was sold by the representatives teenth, was sold by the representatives of the Heiskell estate to Messrs. S. M. and M. Samuel Fridenburg, of Philadelphia. The consideration was $72,500.

The block was recently remodeled, and is a very conveniently arranged building, while its fine location makes it very desirable property. It is well rented, being occupied by The Hub, House's music store, the public library, the Wheeling Athletic Association, the Chamber of Commerce, besides several office rooms. The Messrs. Fridenburg are brothers-in-law of Mr. M. Sonneborn, of The Hub.

Mr. Samuel Fridenberg said to an Intelligence reporter yesterday that if he could find other real estate as eligibly located at as favorable a price he would invest some more money in Wheeling. He has looked over the city's situation and has confidence in its future progress and prosperity. No change is contemplated in The Hub

A FLAG PRESENTATION

And Institution of a New Council Jr. O. U. A. M. at Elm Grove.

Next Monday, April 25, Wheeling Council N. 1, Jr. O. U. A. M., will present a flag to the public school at Elm Grove, and it will be formally run up with the accompaniment of brass band music and a torchlight procession. The Wheeling Juniors will go out on the 7 o'clock motor. After the exercises of the flag presentation are finished a meetine will be held and a new council of the Jr. Order will be formally installed. The members interested are making preparations for a big blow-ou worthy of the occasion.

Mark Twain Ball.

Mark Twath Ball.

The long expected ball of the Mark Twain ball takes place this evening at Turner hall. The Mark Twain boys are noted for giving pleasant balls, and no one who attends them ever fails to enjoy himself. Nobody has been importuned to buy a ticket, as none have been for sale, the first ticket sold out of the box office to-night being the very first ticket that will be sold. A big crowd is expected, and the club will see that all have a good time. that all have a good time.
